DOST-CvSU's SciCAT sends fresh fruits

The advantage of having a farm is not only that it can supply a family's needs but it can also share the harvest to others especially during this time of crisis.

This is what the Science for the Convergence of Agriculture and Tourism (SciCAT) Project Team did this April 2020 in a series of distribution of fresh fruits harvested from Silan Agri Farm.

The first 188 ripe papaya were distributed to frontliners from the Philippine National Police (PNP) assigned in Barangay 1, staff of the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD), Municipal Environment and Natural Resources Office (MENRO), Traffic Enforcers Unit, IATF Operations, and Engineering Office in Barangay 3, and those from the Rural Health Unit in Barangay 4, Indang, Cavite.

The second wave has distributed 101 fresh papaya to the frontliners in General Emilio Aguinaldo Memorial (GEAM) Hospital in Trece Martires City, Cavite while the third wave benefitted 185 frontliners in the Public Market, Bureau of Fire Protection and Municipal Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Office in Indang, MV Santiago Medical Center in Trece Martires City, and City of General Trias Doctors Medical Center in the City of General Trias.

AAs, students receive food packs

Before the semester officially ended, CvSU through the Office of the Vice President for Administrative and Support Services assisted students stranded in dormitories and apartments through the weekly food pack distribution.

The fourth wave of deliveries had additional fresh produce in its 196 food packs, 189 for the fifth distribution and 186 food packs for its last round as students go back to their permanent residences around Cavite.

OVPASS also spearheaded the distribution of 107 food packs to Administrative Aide 1 employees of the University being one of the groups most affected by the crisis.

Most of those reporting as skeleton workforce during the community quarantine came from OVPASS headed by Dr. Camilo A. Polinga who also served as the crisis manager of the University.

NCRDEC's Warm Mugs launched

Recognizing the hardwork of agency-based utility workers, the National Coffee Research, Development and Extension Center (NCRDEC) launched “Warm Mugs”, a relief assistance that called for monetary donation, purchased goods for distribution and delivered food packs to the said target beneficiaries.

Total collection from sponsors amounting to PhP 40,892.00 were used to buy grocery items that include rice, canned goods and noodles. Meanwhile, those living outside Indang were sent cash assistance considering that they are on a “no work, no pay” basis since the start of the community quarantine. Also included in the beneficiaries are farm workers serving in the University.

In addition, the sacrifices and hardwork of the law enforcers were also honored through the giving of 100 packs of Aguinaldo Blend coffee to the frontliners in Cavite with the assistance of PMaj. Fernel Dela Cruz of the Philippine National Police. The first 20 packs of Aguinaldo Blend coffee were distributed to quality controlled points managed by the Philippine National Police (PNP) and barangay personnel in the Municipality of Indang last April 13, 2020. The second batch of 65 packs of coffee were given to the Camp BGen Pantaleon Garcia in Imus City and were distributed to the assistant team leaders of checkpoint and selected police stations of the city. The remaining 15 packs of coffee were given to the Office of the Provincial Director, Base Police Personnel, and Provincial Logistics Branch of the Cavite Police Provincial Office.

CON partners with PNA-Cavite for donations

College of Nursing (CoN) is not only a home to a number of frontliners working as healthcare providers against COVID-19. The said college, through the efforts and donations of its faculty and staff, in collaboration with alumni and the Philippine Nurses Association-Cavite Chapter, has never stopped extending assistance in various forms to a lot of beneficiaries:

A frontliner receiving donation

They shared alcohol supplies to security personnel and delivered sacks of rice to laboratory aide and utility workers. Also, CoN is a partner donor for 300 face shields donated to health facilities in Cavite. This is in addition to the previously donated face shields distributed in different hospitals in the province.

Grocery packages and additional face masks to families in Brgy. Lucuhin, Alfonso, Cavite and to frontliners of Baragay Limbon, Indang, Cavite in collaboration with CvSUMPC- Community Development Committee.

CAS assists PDLs, counsels students

Monetary donation from the faculty members of the College of Arts and Sciences has reached 110 persons deprived of liberty (PDLs) housed in the Cavite Provincial Jail in Trece Martires City, Cavite.

In partnership with the Holy Spirit FISHGEN Church Trece and other private individuals, a total of 680 face masks and sanitary kits were delivered to the said beneficiaries who are also vulnerable to the COVID-19 considering the distancing limitations inside the provincial jail.

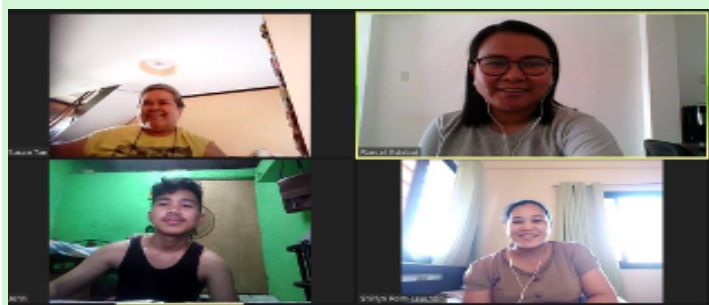

Dr Hilario shares knowledge on mental health

Meanwhile, the college continued to offer psychosocial support thru its online counseling. Dr. Paul Hilario also shared a lot of tips on how to stay mentally healthy amidst the crisis thru a live streaming last April 20. In addition, more than a hundred students have been counseled since the service was offered last March 15.

GAD-RC conducts 1st Online Office Meeting

GAD Reports

The GAD Resource Center conducted its 1st office meeting via Zoom on April 30, 2020. Among the topics discussed were the center's plans and programs in relation to the Philippine Commission on Women's Memorandum Circular directing all government agencies to adjust and/or implement their approved 2020 GAD Plan and Budget in lieu of the current COVID19 pandemic. In view of the work-from-home scheme implemented by the University, the tasks of each of the GAD-RC staff were also discussed to ensure continuity of the center's day to day activities. Details on the data to be collected to support the GAD programs and projects were also tackled to ensure that all activities are properly document and monitored.
